

Job Description: Expedition Leader / Travel Director

Orbridge is a leading travel company specializing in small group travel and expeditions. We introduce like-minded groups to a growing number of the world's leading natural and cultural history destinations. Orbridge launched in 2008 to fill a growing need: thoughtful, educational, engrossing trips for small groups who want to explore and learn more of the world. We are growing rapidly and looking to add top expedition leaders and travel directors to our team.

Orbridge programs emphasize the educational aspects of each destination in a small, intimate departure. We concentrate on unique programs and truly superb experiences. Our Expedition Leaders, Travel Directors, and Guides have extensive knowledge as naturalists, cultural experts, or destination specialists along with the ability to handle inquisitive guests in a small group environment. Through the guidance and leadership of our talented and enthusiastic field staff, Orbridge guests see and learn more about their fascinating and complex destinations than they ever dreamed possible.

We currently are building our core team of Expedition Leaders to provide this strong educational element on future expeditions. Candidates must be experienced and should possess an all around knowledge of the natural and cultural components that make up the various destinations we offer plus have excellent similar experience and skills to handle groups from a variety of organizations. Priority consideration will be given to Naturalists and US Park Service Rangers with particular experience in Alaska.

Candidates will:

- Provide Program Guiding, Leadership and Guest Service.
- Present lectures as agreed upon between Orbridge and program partners in pre-program discussions.
- Provide in-field interpretation as set forth in accordance with the program itinerary and guest inquiry.
- Provide necessary feedback to Orbridge Operations to ensure guest issues are handled in a speedy and effective manner.
- Coordinate with local suppliers to support itinerary inclusions.

Orbridge supports our field staff with extensive pre-trip information as well as ongoing communication throughout each expedition. We offer an attractive independent contractor daily rate and travel expenses package. Please submit your resume for consideration along with your availability.
